[1] This course may be waived by examination. For more information, email Student Services.

[2] Students who complete the required economics course at Mailman do not take the 2 economic course sequence at CSSW. They must take 2 CSSW electives in order to earn enough credits. If there is no required economics course in the student’s program at Mailman, then they are required to complete the 2 economic course sequence at CSSW. Further students pursuing the International Social Welfare field of practice substitute Microeconomics & Policy Analysis I & II with T7815 Economics for International Affairs I & T7817 Economics for International Affairs I-Lab in the Fall semester and T7816 Economics for International Affairs II & T7818 Economics for International Affairs II-Lab in the Spring semester.

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN SOCIAL WORK/MASTER OF INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

CSSW Mentor: Professor Neeraj Kaushal (MPA, Fall) nk464@columbia.edu

SOCIAL WORK AND PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION
Successful graduates earn a Master of Science in Social Work and a Master of Public Administration from Columbia's School of International and Public Affairs and go on to many career paths, including managers or analysts in public agencies, legislative analysts in congressional offices, or elective office.

Dual-degree students are required to fulfill the SIPA and Social Work core requirements outlined below. For further information on the MPA degree requirements, please see the SIPA Curriculum and Faculty Bulletin, published each year. For a list of courses that fulfill core requirements, please refer to the SIPA Registration Guide produced at the beginning of each semester.

SOCIAL WORK AND INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS
Students enrolled in the International Affairs program receive a valuable base in both social work education, international politics and economics. Students increase and enhance their professional skills by uniting theoretical and client-based instruction in the social services and academic preparation in U.S. and international social policies and programs.

Note these students are exempt from the following CSSW courses:
- Statistics admissions requirement
- T6501-Social Work Research
- T69XX-Field of Practice course
- T6416-Program Evaluation (for SEA and AGPP)
- T7501-Clinical case evaluation (for Advanced Clinical Practice)
- Two CSSW Economics courses (for Policy Practice)
