

International Resources List

As an international student interested in attending Columbia School of Social Work, you should expect to have sufficient funding to finance the entire course of study. This handout contains information on government agencies, private organizations, publications and websites that might provide a way to locate funding. This is not a Recommended or Preferred Lender List. This is a simply list of international resources that has been collected based on current and former student experience (shared with us by Columbia Business School colleagues), as well as SW staff scouring the internet for various resources that offer funding or opportunities to international students. Students have the right and ability to select the lender of their choice and are not required to use any of the resources on this list. NOTE: The information provided below is NOT an endorsement of any organization or scholarship program. The below is being provided for informational purposes only.

All students:

International Search Engines:

- Institute of International Education \(IIE\): IIE, which seeks to foster educational exchange, has great resources for international students.
- International Education Financial Aid \(IEFA\): IEFA is the premier resource for financial aid, college scholarship, and grant information for US and international students wishing to study abroad. At this site, you will find the most comprehensive college scholarship search and grant listings, plus international student loan programs and other information to promote study abroad.
