Students enrolled in the International Affairs program receive a valuable base in both social work education, international politics and economics. Students increase and enhance their professional skills by uniting theoretical and client-based instruction in the social services and academic preparation in U.S. and international social policies and programs.

Note these students are exempt from the following CSSW courses:

- Statistics admissions requirement
- T6501-Social Work Research
- T69XX-Field of Practice course
- T6416-Program Evaluation (for SEA and AGPP)
- T7501-Clinical case evaluation (for Advanced Clinical Practice)
- Two CSSW Economics courses (for Policy Practice)

UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN SOCIAL WORK/MASTER OF DIVINITY

CSSW Mentor: Professor Barbara Simon bls1@columbia.edu
 CSSW Coordinators: Karma Lowe kn13@columbia.edu

This dual degree program offered by the School of Social Work and Union Theological Seminary, leads to a Master of Science in Social Work and a Master of Divinity. Its graduates work in parish ministries, education, hospitals, with private or public social work agencies, in social action organizations, and with issues such as immigration, human rights, and economic development. This is a four-year program, with the first two years at UTS and the last two years at CSSW.
