

Columbia Population Research Center
Advancing Research in Population, Health, and Society

The Reproductive Health and HIV Primary Research Area Group presents a conference on

Sexual Health and Wellbeing: The Role of Public Health Research, Training, and Practice

Friday, October 25, 2019

8:30am – 2:30pm

Room C03 (Concourse Level), School of Social Work
1255 Amsterdam Avenue (at 122nd st)

8:30 – 9:00 Breakfast

9:00 – 9:45 Plenary

Terry McGovern (Columbia University), “The Devolution of Multilateralism: Sexual and Reproductive Health and Rights in the Breach”

9:45 – 11:00 Panel 1 – Reimagining Sexual Education

Leslie Kantor (Rutgers University), “Sex Education: Federal and State Policies and What ‘Works’”

Laura Lindberg (Guttmacher Institute), “Sex Education in the US: Books, Bytes and Beyond”

John Santelli (Columbia University), “Taking the Sex out of Sex Ed: The Role of Abstinence Education and Adolescent Health”

11:00 – 12:15 Panel 2 – Sexual Violence throughout the Lifecourse

Kate Walsh (Yeshiva University), “The Mental Health and Substance Use Impact of Sexual Violence”

Lisa Bates (Columbia University), “Sexual Violence in Marriage in South Asia”

Jennifer Hirsch (Columbia University), “Sexual Citizenship and Sexual Assault Prevention”

12:15 – 1:00 Lunch (either at event or join PHIOS meeting from 12-1pm)

9:45 – 11:00 Panel 3 – Advancing Sexual and Reproductive Rights and Justice

Cynthia Soohoo (CUNY), “Reimagining Reproductive Rights as Reproductive Justice”

Brooke S. West (Columbia University), “Sexual and Reproductive Justice for the Forgotten, Ignored and Controlled: Policing the Bodies of People with HIV, Sex Workers, and Women Who Use Drugs”

Inga Winkler (ISHR, Columbia University), “Advancing the Rights of Menstruators: From 'Menstrual Hygiene' to 'Menstrual Health'”

2:15 – 2:30 Closing Remarks and Discussion