

Christopher Yongha Won
He/him

Diversity, Equity and Inclusion/Communications Officer, Columbia-Institute of Human Nutrition; Educator, Designer & Advocate; Former Program Coordinator, Diversity, Equity & Inclusion, Columbia School of Social Work.

Chris was born on the land of the Han (Corea), grew up on the land of the Massachusett (Boston), spent five years on the land of the Tlingit (Juneau), and is grateful to the Munsee Lenape whose lands (Manhattan) he is able to be a guest on.

Chris is a Queer, neurodivergent, Third-Culture Kid educator, artist & advocate, passionate about Indigenization and culturally-sustaining practices.

Chris hopes to honor belongingness, inclusion, and ancestral wisdom to foster equitable learning environments in his work.

Instagram: Readbetweentheirinds

Website: <https://www.linkedin.com/in/christopherwon/>